$275.00/3 sessions

NOTE TO PARTICIPANTS

Lellie's system is based on teaching riders to keep their horses balanced, straight and supple. She calls her system "body identification," a method that focuses on using specific parts of the rider's body to make contact with corresponding parts of the horse's body to influence balance, shape, submission and overall performance. In order to develop basic concepts and techniques, Lellie prefers to evaluate riders and horses on the flat before proceeding to jump work (show jumping/cross country) at rider's request.
